Whereas the Schlaquis have sued for peace with the Empire of Diking, whereas the Schlaquis have not taken any more military action against Diking, whereas the Emperor of Diking has granted the Schlaquis a cease-fire, and whereas Diking would like to keep this peace, the parties resolve to the following provisions.

Provision One

The Schlaquis and the Empire of Diking agree to end hostilities against each other for all time.

Provision Two

Breach of Provision One shall void this treaty.

Provision Three

Diking recognizes all Schlaquis bases and settlements to be sovereign territory, provided that they are not already in areas claimed by Diking or its commonwealths.

Provision Four

The Schlaquis agree to not supply weapons of any type to anyone but themselves, and to keep their supplies of these weapons in secure locations.

Provision Five

The Schlaquis agree to not aid nor abet any enemies or insurgents of the Empire of Diking.

Provision Six

The Empire of Diking agrees to not aid nor abet any enemies of the Schlaquis.

Provision Seven

This treaty may be subject to amendment at any time provided both parties agree to the amendment.
